

Quality Support

Running a productive business takes more than a good idea - it takes action. There's so much change, competition, innovation, staffing and of course technology to worry about. Your resources plus ours are a powerful partnership for your technology needs. Connected Technology provides clients with hardware, software and service solutions that improve productivity and security.

Our technical specialists are expert at information technology planning, design, integration and support. Connected Technology provides an array of services including:

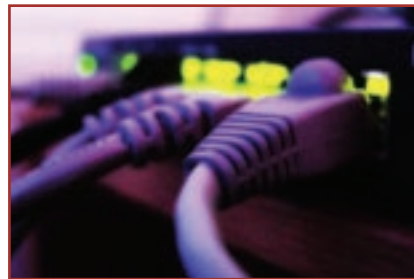

- Document Imaging
- Document Management
- Infrastructure and Systems Management / Design
- Maintenance
- Application Implementation
- Security and Privacy
- Hosting
- Web Development
- Email Hosting

Quality Service

Protect Valuable Data

- Networking
- Technical Outsourcing
- IT Performance
- Storage Solutions
- Technical Support
- Wireless
- Application Development
- IP Telephony (VOIP)

Document Management

Document management solutions convert paper documents to searchable computer files and permit access to information that directly improves both productivity and the quality of decisions made by your organization. An hour lost searching for a paper document, an insurance claim form or an invoice for example, burns productivity and keeps you from tackling more important matters. Every time you need information stored on paper, it takes time to retrieve and communicate. Document management makes that process more efficient.

Lost Productivity

Assuming a powerful solution is out of your reach is a mistake. Productivity gains are enough to offset the costs of a document management solution. In some cases the gains translate into as much as 50% greater utilization of staff and up to 80% less storage space.

We can help develop a cost effective solution that makes sense for your business.

Call us for an evaluation
Phone: 631-724-6504

Design

Our team of engineers are expert at helping you plan, implement and maintain your IT infrastructure and applications. Working with our team ensures that your business gains the competitive edge with technology that helps get the job done and meets your return on expenditure goals.

We take the long term implications into consideration so that future system upgrades are more easily integrated.

We provide our clients with professional, cost effective solutions for their business needs, using leading technology leveraged by our highly trained professional staff.

Partnership

connected
TECHNOLOGY

SERVICES